What is an MLP & what is Memphis CHiLD?

As described by the National Center for Medical-Legal Partnership, medical-legal partnership (MLP) “integrates the expertise of health care, public health and legal professionals and staff to address and prevent health-harming social and legal needs for patients, clinics and populations. By partnering together, health care, public health and legal institutions transform the healthcare system’s response to social determinants of health.”

Memphis CHiLD (Children’s Health Law Directive) is the first medical-legal partnership of its kind in the region. A collaborative effort among The University of Memphis Cecil C. Humphreys School of Law, Memphis Area Legal Services (MALS) and Le Bonheur Children’s Hospital, Memphis CHiLD focuses on identifying the legal and social issues that impact patient health and providing means to address these issues though direct legal services, education and advocacy for children and their families.

Course Description

Housed in both devoted hospital space and the law school Clinic offices, law students participating in the MLP Clinic provide free legal assistance to low-income patients of Le Bonheur Children’s Hospital under the supervision of experienced MLP faculty, lawyers, and healthcare providers. Among other case-related assignments, MLP Clinic students conduct intake interviews, develop case strategies, conduct legal research, prepare legal documents, counsel clients, and provide representation in court and at administrative proceedings.
Although not an exhaustive list, the MLP Clinic provides legal services in the following I-HELP areas: Income and insurance (including public benefits and public and private health insurance), Housing (including landlord-tenant matters and utilities), Employment and education (including unemployment and IEP’s), Legal education and counsel (providing education and training to health care professionals and the community), and Personal and family safety (domestic violence and other family law matters).

To complement their casework, Clinic students participate in weekly classroom sessions designed to explore the legal work they will be performing, the legal, policy and ethical issues that affect patients' health, and the ways that health outcomes and health care access for low-income children can be enhanced by bringing together health and legal professionals. Throughout their Clinic semester, students have the opportunity to work collaboratively with the faculty and staff of Le Bonheur Children’s Hospital and to participate in joint class sessions with medical students and students from other health disciplines.
